Subject: Publication of the proceedings of the XVIII UISPP world congress

As previously defined, the proceedings of the XVIII° UISPP world congress may be published in one the following possibilities:

1. Firstly, As part of the UISPP PROCEEDINGS SERIES;
2. By exception, as a special issue of a scientific refereed journal.

1. In the case you publish as a volume of the UISPP SERIES, please note that the following structure must be respected:

- TECHNICAL FILE, following the example in the annex, that you must complete with the data on your volume (volumes already delivered do not need to do this);
- GENERAL INTRODUCTORY TEXT OF THE SERIES, as in the annex;
- INTRODUCTION TO THE VOLUME, that you must prepare, explaining the session(s) of the congress it is related to, and the scope and contents of the volume;
- LIST OF CONTENTS
- PAPERS ordered from 01 to N, respecting the following layout:
 - Single column layout in 11 point, i.e. something very simple for the computer screen and images. No double columns.
 - Images in the text, 300-600 dpi
 - Page size A4.
 - Coherent bibliography

The edition in the UISPP SERIES will be online and open access, even if printed versions may also be requested.

The cost of the online edition is supported by the XVIII° UISPP congress organization.

Nevertheless, to guarantee the good diffusion of the acts and increasing the interest of the publication, the XVIII° UISPP congress organization may ask to sessions having a common theme to merge into a single volume. In that way, the editors are the editors of the concerned sessions in the alphabetic order. Inside the volume, the sessions are distinguished with their own title, editors and introduction.

2. By exception, as a special issue of a scientific refereed journal

The publication, in this case must be in open access and mention the contribution as UISPP Proceedings (see above the mentions to add)
A financial support of the UISPP cannot be granted in this case, because it is reserved for the UISPP/Archaeopress solution.

Please indicate to the scientific review that UISPP asks for the joined copyright of the publication. It means for UISPP the right to propose on line, on its internet site, free of charge, the publication after a negotiated delay (one year in the French law). If it takes problem for the scientific journal, please contact us.

UISPP accept the edition of a session in multiple languages at the condition to have an abstract in English, in French (official languages of Unesco) and in the native language of the paper. Session editors cannot oblige an author to publish in any given language, because the journal would impose it.

L'UISPP a une longue histoire, à partir de 1865, avec le Congrès International d'Anthropologie et d'Archéologie Préhistorique (C.I.A.A.P.), jusqu'en 1931, date de la Fondation à Berne de l'UISPP. En 1955, l'UISPP est devenu membre du Conseil International de philosophie et de Sciences humaines, associée à l'UNESCO. L'UISPP repose sur plus de trente commissions scientifiques qui représentent un réseau représentatif des spécialistes mondiaux de la préhistoire et de la protohistoire, couvrant toutes les spécialités de l'archéologie : historiographie, théorie et méthodes de l'archéologie ; Culture matérielle par période (Paléolithique, néolithique, âge du bronze, âge du fer) et par continents (Europe, Asie, Afrique, Pacifique, Amérique), paléoenvironnement et paléoclimatologie ; Archéologie dans des environnements spécifiques (montagne, désert, steppes, zone tropicale), archéométrie ; Art et culture ; Technologie et économie ; anthropologie biologique ; archéologie funéraire ; archéologie et sociétés

Le XVIII° Congrès mondial de l'UISPP en 2018, à Paris en France, avec le soutien de toutes les institutions françaises liées à l'archéologie, comportait 122 sessions, plus de 1800 communications de scientifiques venus de près de 60 pays et de tous les continents.

Les actes du congrès, édités par l'UISPP comme dans des numéros spéciaux de revues scientifiques spécialisées, restera comme le résultat le plus important du Congrès.
